Features

- 58 Welding Advances in Tube and Pipe Applications
Hybrid welding, narrow gap welding, and a patented deep-penetrating process were examined
I. D. Harris
- 64 Orbital Welding Systems Streamline In-Process Inspections
In-process inspections of orbital welding is made easier with the automated data collection now built into the power sources
J. Glessman
- 68 GMAW Processes Reduce Pipe Rework
Rework on pipe welding was reduced with the use of a modified short-circuiting gas metal arc process
M. Roth
- *72 Steel Sleeves vs. Composites for In-Service Pipeline Repair
Pipeline repair strategies are compared for effectiveness in the long term
W. A. Bruce and W. E. Amend
- 78 Small Firms with Longevity: What Are They Doing Right?
Three fabricating companies that have been around for a long time reveal their reasons for success
A. Cullison, H. Woodward, and K. Campbell

Welding Research Supplement

- 107-s Measuring Welding Deformations with the Digital Image Correlation Technique
The reliability of a method for measuring strain evolution during welding was validated
M. De Strycker et al.
- 113-s Custom Beam Shaping for High-Power Fiber Laser Welding
The design of a beam-shaping optic was evaluated for its ability to smooth out the weld and prevent undercut at the weld toe
B. Victor et al.
- 121-s Simultaneous Imaging and Measurement of Pool Surface and Metal Transfer Experimental results verified the effectiveness of image processing algorithms and modeling
Z. Z. Wang et al.
